Artist description:

Wing Wong was born in Hong Kong in 1964 and studied art photography in Arizona during the mid-80s. After obtaining his diploma he returned to his homeland and started to work as a freelance photographer.

In 2006 Wong quit all his commercial photography jobs as he failed to agree with the ideas from clients about 'beauty', and re-erected a traditional darkroom for himself. Since then he has concentrated exclusively on art photography. All his frames were shot on film and hand-printed on gelatin silver paper by Wing Wong himself.
